The AIESEC Member program is a practical experience for young people, that focuses on leadership development at the core.

Unlike other university clubs or youth organizations, our program develops young people by delivering a personalized, relevant and measurable leadership development experience, connecting them to a global network of youth and partner organizations.

The benefits we offer can be summarized in the following points:

Development

In AIESEC, members can develop self-management and interpersonal skills through having practical learning experiences.

Network

In AIESEC, members have the chance to connect with people from all over the world during and after their experience, which allows them to build their own local and international network.

Impact

Our mission, values and inclusivity stand out as a great environment for people to learn, connect with others and contribute for a better world through the programs we offer and further leadership opportunities.

about AIESEC
