

Workshop – Partitives

Vilnius, 4 and 5 September 2010

Convenors: Silvia Luraghi and Tuomas Huumo

Saturday morning

- 1. Matti Miestamo - Partitives and negation, a cross-linguistic survey*
- 2. Tuomas Huumo, Liina Lindström - Partitives stretching borders: How well do Finnish and Estonian partitive subjects serve as a criterion for the existential clause?*
- 3. M. M. Jocelyne Fernandez-Vest - The Finnish Partitive revisited: a discourse-cognitive approach, in comparison with some other Finno-Ugric and Indo-European languages*
- 4. Anne Tamm - Partitive semantics and semantic partitives in the Uralic languages*
- 5. Metslang Helena - How close are the Estonian partitive subjects to partitive objects?*

Saturday afternoon

- 6. Borja Ariztimuño López, Mikel Martínez Areta - The Basque partitive*
- 7. Urtzi Etxebarria - The Basque partitive marker is interpreted existentially*
- 8. Katia Paykin - Russian Partitive and the Verb Aspect*
- 9. Michael Daniel, Nina Dobsrushina - Russian partitive over time: a corpus study*
- 10. Evgenia Chernigovskaya - Partitives and diminutives in Russian*

Sunday morning

- 11. Eystein Dahl - The Indo-European and Indo-Iranian Origins of Ergativity Marking in Indo-Aryan Partitive Subjects and Objects in Indo-Iranian and Greek*
- 12. Luz Conti, Silvia Luraghi - The Ancient Greek partitive genitive in typological perspective*
- 13. Ilja A. Seržant - The relation between the partitive genitive subject constructions in ancient Indo-European languages and Baltic, Slavic*
- 14. Béatrice Lamiroy, Anne Carlier - The grammaticalization of the prepositional partitive in Romance*
- 15. Elżbieta Tabakowska - Double government in Polish: semantic and pragmatic motivation for the use of genitivus partitivus*